

MICHELLE MERCER

I am Michelle, a portrait, wedding and commercial photographer based in Newcastle upon Tyne, UK. Having explored the world of photography, I have come to realise that what I enjoy photographing most is people. Everyone is different, making each shoot exciting, new and challenging. I count myself lucky that I never know what I will be shooting on any given day - today I might be photographing a baby and tomorrow fashion models.

When I'm not behind the camera, I can be found enjoying a coffee, some chocolate and a movie, with my two sons enjoying their sports activities or walking our dog along the beautiful north east coastline.
